WE FIND TALENT TO FIT

Finding the right person to fill a position can be a complicated, time-consuming process. But Alphanumeric can help alleviate the stress and defray the costs in time and liability while ensuring you find the talent you need.

Alphanumeric is known first and foremost as an IT company. But for more than a decade, Alphanumeric has also been a valuable staffing partner, successfully placing thousands of candidates for hundreds of clients.

We provide:

- Contingent Workforce
- Direct Placement
- Contract-to-Hire

We stand apart in technical staffing by leveraging our industry expertise to ensure all qualifications are met, if not exceeded. We can see past the resume, and know what questions to ask in an interview. We know that candidates must meet the given skillsets, but also fit the corporate culture of the organization in which they'll be placed. We strive to understand how our clients work to better enable us to gauge how candidates will fit within the corporate culture. We've been able to reduce turnover rates and increase customer satisfaction by paying attention to the details, instead of just filling seats.

And Alphanumeric staffing isn't exclusive to IT professionals. We've placed all kinds of employees, from service technicians, to engineers, to CFOs. Our experience and proven procedures ensure we can be flexible to meet clients' expectations. Our priority is meeting your needs.

T YOUR ORGANIZATION

We're in it for the long haul. All Alphanumeric staffing candidates are assigned to a field manager as soon as they are placed at a client site. The field manager acts as a liaison between the client and the employee, helping to ensure that the placement is productive and successful, and increasing retention. Personnel are also able to leverage Alphanumeric's standing knowledge base via their field manager. This enables us — and our candidates — to better meet our clients' needs, and maximize the long-term effectiveness of our placements.
